Winter passes; spring arrives
The morning sun alights on Mt. Kasuga
Through a misty haze (Author unknown)

It is an enormous pleasure for us all that the 67th Congress of the LMHI is to be held in September 2012 in Japan's ancient capital, Nara, where even after 1,300 years the home of Japanese people's hearts, the spirit of Manyo ("A Myriad Leaves", Japan's oldest poetry anthology) still breathes.

We believe that in order to achieve holistic medicine, the ideal medicine, homeopathic medicine cannot be avoided, and that spreading homeopathic medicine within healthcare in Japan is a shortcut to obtaining warmhearted healthcare, and so in January 2000 we founded the Japanese Physicians Society for Homeopathy.

For we who have proudly moved forward with firm steps over the 10 or so years since then, the 67th Congress of the LMHI is the first bridgehead along the path to reaching our goal. We must make this Congress a success at any cost, and so we humbly request your guidance and cooperation.

The theme of the Congress is "和Harmony". The character "和wa" was taken from the ancient name of Nara, 大和Yamato, and the theme selected in the hope that we can restore the Earth to its original beauty by each person in the world seeking harmony between their own "body", "mind", and "spirit (inochi)" and respecting the harmony of others.

We therefore ask that you understand the significance of this and act with us to achieve a shining future!

Thank you for your support.

Ryoichi Obitsu
